THE BATTLE FOR REFORM

Democratic State Chairman's Final Appeal to the Voters.

An Opportunity That All Patriotic Citizens Should Improve—What the Election of Yerkes and Coray Will Mean.

Harrisburg, Oct. 24.—The following address has been issued by Chairman Creasy, of the Democratic state committee:

To the voters of Pennsylvania:

An extraordinary chapter in the history of Pennsylvania politics has just been recorded, one which should arrest the thoughtful attention of every citizen and arouse him to a sense of his bounden duty toward the commonwealth. In the conflict which has been waged with the persistent foes of honest government all efforts to protect the ballot box from pollution have been either openly and bitterly opposed, or sinister attempts made to nullify the fruits of intelligent and earnest work for ballot reform. At every step, obstacles have been put in the way of the free and independent exercise of the right suffrage. Needless and vexatious requirements have been insisted upon, with the sole object of preventing the success at the polls of those non-partisan movements absolutely necessary at times to overcome the combined power of evil forces in public life.

THE TREASURY RING TERRIFIED.

Face to face at last with the swelling tide of patriotic revolt against intolerable conditions, it was determined to break down, if possible, this inspiring union of honest citizenship through an eleventh hour appeal to the courts. This action was not based upon even a fragment of justice—for any alleged trespass upon personal rights could have been fully considered at any other time—but the barest technicality of procedure. The purpose was so plain that none could be deceived and as unjustifiable as it was significant. It was hoped to prevent a half million Democratic voters from having the opportunity to strike a direct and effective blow at the blighting and doomed cause of Quayism. Such a transparent scheme of unprincipaled and desperate political leaders clearly shows the fear which posseses them. The possibility and growing certainty that a trustworthy representative of the people will be commissioned to take charge of the state treasury fills the ring with alarm. This one fact should serve as an unerring finger-board showing the honest voters of Pennsylvania their duty in this crisis. Never before has such a plan to defeat the manifest public will been resorted to. Never before have baffled political conspirators dared to snatch the ballot of his choice from the citizen's hands. Never before have political highwaymen thus attempted to hold up the patriotic freemen of our great state.

EARNEST WORK ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Happily, this despicable device to save an imperiled machine has utterly failed. The utmost demands of party rect and nerve been swiftly and complete lecompiled with. The reform banner is still aloft, bearing the honored names that every honest Democrat in Pennsylvania, and every honest Republican as well, should be proud to endorse at the polls. We, therefore, in the name of a Democracy that means the very highest form of political purity and personal and official integrity, appeal to you to gird on the armor for an immediately and triumphant assault upon the citadel of Quayism. Let the remaining days of the campaign be zealously devoted to bringing every voter into line for Yerkes and Coray. The signs of victory are most encouraging on every hand. An earnest union of good citizenship in every county, in every city and town and in every election district, will surely mean the utter rout of the enemies of the people.

WHAT A UNION REFORM VICTORY WILL MEAN.

A vote for Yerkes means the upholding of the highest standard of judicial ability and integrity; the protection of the court of last resort from the contamination of evil influences. Every citizen is vitally interested in the maintenance of the purity of the tribunals of justice. A vote for Coray means an effective protest against the prostitution of public office to base selfish purposes. The state treasury has been the financial fortress within which a conscienceless and corrupt ring has been entrenched for nearly 40 years. To drive them out, open the books and enforce honest administration, is the supreme duty of voters this year. The chance to do this has never been so favorable. Now is the time for a union of the patriotic citizenship of our long enthralled commonwealth which will lead to its speedy release from the iniquities of machine bondage.

Mr. E. B. Tustin's Residence, as it Will Appear When Completed.

The residence of Edward B. Tustin now being erected on Market street, will be one of the handsomest mansions in this state, when completed. Mr. T. P. Reitmeyer of Williamsport is the architect and has full charge of the work.

The materials for the exterior are Roman shaped, cream tinted bricks, trimmed with Bedford stone of ivory shade. The roofs will be covered with forest green tiles. The porches are 13 feet wide, and have massive columns extending to the roof, of stately and graceful design. The interior will be fitted up in the finest forms known to architecture. The basement contains Turkish smoking room, billiard room, children's playroom, bowling alley, gymnasium, laundry and boiler rooms. On the first floor are the library, parlor, drawing room, dining room, breakfast room, sun parlor, and conservatory, servants' sitting room, kitchen, pantries, etc. The parlor will be finished in tones of gold and white. The halls and library with beamed, corned, and moulded ceilings in San Domingo mahogany. Other rooms in quartered white oak finished in Flemish, green, and antique tones. The entire second and third floors in ivory white and French gray enamels. There will be six fully equipped bathrooms finished in dainty tile work in white, gold, blue, pink and green effects. Throughout the whole exterior and interior scheme there is a happy combination of the useful and beautiful, giving every comfort and convenience, and it would be difficult to point to a finer example of a modern American home.

MIGHT NOT BE SO FUNNY.

There are some very funny people living up along the line of the trolley road. Not long ago they fixed up a dummy and laid it on the track, and thought it was a good joke when a car ran over it and nearly frightened a motorman out of his wits. On Saturday evening they tried to be funny again, and laid a piece of hemlock scantling across the track. Several cars ran over it, but fortunately no accident occurred. This sort of senseless sport ought to cease, and we are informed that the company is on the lookout for these funny people, and if they are detected they will have to abide the consequences. It may not be generally known that the law provides for punishment in such cases. The act of 1860, Pamphlet Laws, page 382, section 142 reads as follows:

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF TO RAILROADS: If any person shall wilfully and maliciously put, place, cast or throw upon or across any railroad, any wood, stone or other matter or thing, or shall wilfully and maliciously take up, remove, or displace any rail, sleeper, or other matter or thing belonging to any railroad, or shall wilfully or maliciously turn, move or divert any switch or other machinery belonging to any railroad, or shall wilfully and maliciously make or show, hide or remove, any signal of light upon or near any railroad, or shall wilfully and maliciously do or cause to be done any other matter or thing, with intent, in any of the cases aforesaid, to obstruct, upset, overthrow, injure or destroy any tender, carriage, car or truck used on such road, or to endanger the safety of any person traveling, or being upon such railroad, every such offender shall be guilty of felony, and, being thereof convicted, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of ten thousand dollars, and to undergo an imprisonment, by separate or solitary confinement not exceeding ten years.

Ten years in the penitentiary for a little joke like this, wouldn't be so funny, would it?

The engineer corps started this morning to survey a line for the trolley between Bloomsburg and Millville.

THE MAN IN THE MOON.

On Friday, Saturday and Monday evenings the operetta, "The Man in the Moon" was presented at the Opera House, under the direction of Mr. J. G. Hoffman of New York. It was under the auspices of the Civic Club, and their share of the proceeds will go into the Public Library fund. The operetta is a combination of pretty airs from popular light operas, and the entertainment was a charming one throughout. Mr. Hoffman is an affable gentleman who thoroughly understands his business, and his drilling of so many people, including a large number of children in so short a time was wonderful. He is ably assisted by Miss Vandusen, pianist.

The goblins were one of the best features of the show, and all did their parts well.

The Umbrella Dance by Clarissa Peacock and Marguerite Eshleman was very pretty, and very gracefully done by the little ladies. Misses Ora White, Claire Gross and Nellie Sweppenhiser made a hit as the London Swells.

The leading parts were filled by Dr. A. K. Aldinger, W. H. Coffman, Edward Lewis, Paul Harman, Frank Colley, Misses Sloan, Rawlings, Hendershott, Albert, Cope, White, Foulke, Girton and Miller.

The cake walk by Misses Edna Wilson, Emma Webb, Minnie Deily, Bess Bachman, Aleca Hallbauer, Nellie Wilson, and Messrs. S. H. Harman, J. W. Lee, Silas Riddle; G. Gross, Frank Miller and Ben Carpenter, was also a winner, and received much applause.

The Archer Cadets were Misses Low, Buckalew, Hartman, White, Neal, Andress, Ethel Hartman and Hemingway. They looked pretty and marched well.

Harold and Mae Gross as the Komical Koons, were very entertaining. There were a large number in the chorus who deserve equal credit with those who had more prominent parts, but their names are not at hand. One of the most serious drawbacks to the proper presentation of the operetta was the smallness of the stage, and the absence of appropriate scenery and stage properties, but even this was not sufficient to prevent the entertainment from being a great success. Mr. Hoffman will be welcome here should he ever return.

The thanks of the public are due to the ladies who are working so zealously and unselfishly to establish a free library. May their efforts be crowned with success!

The Wheelmen pool team for the second time triumphed ever Capt. Boyd Maize's shooters last night. The victory was even more decisive than before, the Wheelmen this time leading by 35 points.

THE ASSASSIN DEAD.

Czolgosz Pays the Penalty of His Fiendish Crime.

A QUICK AND QUIET ELECTROCUTION

Doomed Man Showed No Signs of Grief or Repentance In Final Interviews—Remains to Be Buried In Prison Yard at Auburn.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 29.—At 7:15 o'clock this morning Leon F. Czolgosz paid tribute with his life to the law as the murderer of President William McKinley.

The electrical machine was made ready for its work yesterday. Auburn prison was carefully guarded, and the city was in its normal calm. Nothing occurred of a sensational character.

Walter N. Thayer, former warden of Dannemora prison, at the request of Superintendent Collins was present to assist Warden Mead during the execution.

Czolgosz was dressed in a very simple manner for the execution, a pair of black trousers, a loose gray shirt and a pair of gray socks completing the outfit. He wore no undergarments and no shoes.

Among those who witnessed the execution were Superintendent Collins, State Treasurer John P. Jaeckel, Superintendent of Public Instruction Skinner, Sheriff Caldwell and District Attorney Penney of Erie county, Justice White, who presided at the assassin's trial; Dr. C. F. McDonald, Prison Physician Gerin, G. R. Peck and C. F. Rattigan of Auburn, County Judge Underwood and President Lispenard of the state prison commission. State Treasurer Jaeckel acted as foreman of the execution jury.

When the assassin emerged from his cell to pay the penalty of his crime, he traversed a distance of twenty-five feet. He passed two of the cells on the same side of the building as the one he left, walked fifteen feet to the narrow corridor, five feet down that and through a great iron door that is only opened when the law demands the taking of a life.

Through this door he passed. The door was shut behind him instantly, so that no sound might reach the ears of the other men in the condemned cells. Five feet from the door stood the chair of death.

Once in the chair short work was made by the trained assistants of the executioner in affixing the apparatus to his limbs and head and connecting the wires that descend from the roof of the conical metallic cap placed on the head of the prisoner with the arms and legs of the chair, which were sheathed with active electrical conductors.

A hurried examination was made to see that everything was all right. Then the warden, with a handkerchief in his hand, signaled to the executioner that all was ready.

Electrician Davis turned on the fatal current, and in a moment, which seemed to the tense minds of the witnesses an eternity, the assassin of William McKinley was a lifeless corpse.

Immediately after the autopsy the body was placed in a black stained pine coffin, every portion of the anatomy being replaced under the supervision of Dr. Gerin and Warden Mead. Shortly afterward it was taken to the prison cemetery and an extraordinary precaution taken to completely destroy it. A carboy of acid was obtained and poured upon the body in the coffin after it had been lowered into the grave. Straw was used in the four corners of the grave, as the earth was put in to give vent to such gases as might form. It was the belief of the physicians that the body would be entirely disintegrated within twelve hours.

Czolgosz suffered a slight nervous attack late yesterday, but remained sullen and stoical up to the time the prison closed at 10 o'clock. He refused to heed the words of the priest who came to urge spiritual preparation for death and declined to either re-embrace Roman Catholicism or renounce anarchy. He showed no strength of love for kin, nor did he turn to any of those higher considerations which ordinarily claim the thoughts of men occupying his position. He may have suffered untold torture, but outwardly he seemed to be sullen and indifferent.

The plan of burning his clothing and papers was carried out immediately after the execution.

Czolgosz held his last two interviews last night, the first with Superintendent Collins and the second with his brother and brother-in-law. Both of the interviews were brief, and the interviewers did most of the talking until the question of religion was mentioned, when Czolgosz broke from his seeming lethargy and violently denounced the church and the clergy and made his relatives promise that there should be no service for him living or dead.

General Miles' Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Lieutenant General Miles in his annual report gives the total strength of the army at the present time as 84,513, of which number 33,874 are in the United States, 43,239 in the Philippines, 4,914 in Cuba, the remainder, in small detachments, being in Porto Rico, Hawaii, China and Alaska. He says it is expected the force in Cuba will be very much reduced and hopes that the force in the Philippines also can be reduced.

Over the Falls in a Barrel.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Annie Edson Taylor, fifty years old, went over Niagara falls on the Canadian side yesterday afternoon and survived, a feat never before accomplished and indeed never attempted except in the deliberate commission of suicide. She made the trip in a barrel.

LOUISIANA'S RACE WAR.

The Situation More Quiet—Order For Troops Revoked.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30.—It is believed that the assistance of the militia will not be needed in restoring order out of the race war at Live Oak Church, near Bailtown, La. The latest advices are such that Governor Heard has revoked the orders to the squad of fifty of the state cavalry which had been ordered to the scene and directed simply that the men hold themselves in readiness.

The very enormity of the crimes against life they have committed seems to have appalled the citizens of the hamlet at Live Oak Church and brought matters to a standstill. Estimates of the loss of life still vary greatly. It is known that nine negroes and two white men have been killed, and some insist that the total number of dead, including those who have died from wounds since the conflict, is much nearer thirty than a dozen. Among those who place the number of dead at thirty is Sheriff Simmons.

A special from Bailtown, La., says that the race war between the blacks and whites which started at a negro camp meeting at Duncan's chapel Sunday forms a story of blood unequaled in the history of the Pearl river valley.

No one is able to estimate the number of wounded negroes who escaped the carnage behind the church. They scattered in all directions. Some are known to have been shot, but they have not been found.

The conflict raged for half an hour. Those at a distance say the firing sounded like a battle between troops.

A FIGHT IN PANAY.

Twenty-five Insurgents Killed—Good News From Cebu.

MANILA, Oct. 28.—The constabulary report a fight with insurgents near Passi, province of Iloilo, island of Panay, in which twenty-five insurgents were killed and three captured, together with a quantity of arms and ammunition.

The news from General Hughes regarding conditions in the island of Cebu is encouraging. Lorega has surrendered, with his entire force and one cannon and seven rifles, while General Hughes is negotiating for the surrender of Maxilot, who styles himself "governor politico militar." His surrender will mean the pacification of the province.

Lack of food and the harassing effects of the aggressive tactics now pursued by the American forces are having their influence upon the natives. In many places where rice is doled out by the government only enough is given for one meal, so that it is hardly possible for any large quantity to find its way to the insurgents.

It is believed that the recent manifestations in the island of Samar were chiefly due to the lack of food, the insurgents finding it necessary to make outlets to the coast in order to obtain this.

Killed the Superintendent.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 30.—Because he had been discharged for drunkenness John McArdelle, a workman on the new Frick building, shot and killed Charles E. Youngberg, superintendent of electrical construction for the George A. Fuller company, by whom he had been employed. Two bullets entered the body of the victim, the fatal one entering just above the heart. The murder occurred on the second floor of the building just about the time the day workmen were leaving, and for a time the murderer was in danger of having summary justice dealt out to him. A crowd of 500 workmen and others gave the police all they could do to protect McArdelle, who was cringing behind a temporary barricade. When McArdelle was finally convinced that he was safe, he said: "I've done it. I'm sorry now. I did it for one day's pay."

Carnegie's Offer Accepted.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 30.—Education Commissioner Brumbaugh has sent a letter to Andrew Carnegie accepting his offer, made under certain conditions, of $100,000 to build a free public library for San Juan. Definite plans for the erection of the building will be formulated in November when Mr. Brumbaugh is in New York city. Numerous new schools, built with insular funds, have been opened, including a normal and an agricultural school. Heretofore there were no school buildings on the island.

SCHLEY UNDER FIRE

PROGRESS OF THE COURT IS SLOW.

So Much Ground Remains to Be Gone Over That the End of the Trial Is Not In Sight.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The cross examination of Admiral Schley was continued throughout the session of the court of inquiry yesterday. The progress made was exceedingly slow. Practically the whole day was consumed in questioning the admiral about the cruise from Cienfuegos to Santiago and the motives and influences that governed him in turning back after his squadron had arrived in the vicinity of the latter port. This latter branch of the cross examination had not been concluded when the court adjourned.

The blockade at Santiago, the reconnoissance on May 31 and the battle of July 3 still remain to be covered. It is hardly probable that the judge advocate can conclude before adjournment today. After he finishes quite a number of questions prepared by the members of the court will be submitted. The judge advocate in conducting the cross examination used a carefully prepared typewritten list of questions. They called for comparison of statements Admiral Schley had made either in his direct testimony, in his communication to the senate or in his dispatches to Admiral Sampson or the navy department, with the testimony of witnesses who have preceded him and the logs and signal books of the other vessels of the fleet.

The main points to which the cross examination was directed were the ability of the ships to coal off Cienfuegos and the reasons for what is known as the "retrograde movement."

The latter point was dwelt upon with much emphasis and detail and had not been disposed of fully when the court adjourned. The admiral gave three reasons for turning back—first, the statement of Captain Sigsbee, who commanded the scoutship St. Paul, that the enemy was not in Santiago; second, the opinion of Nunez, the pilot, that the entrance was too narrow and shallow for the Spanish ships to enter, and, third, the ambiguity of the department's telegram. In the course of the cross examination the admiral said he regarded the department's dispatch rather as a suggestion than as an explicit order, a suggestion which he carried out after the sea had abated and the coal supply of the ships had been replenished.

BATTLE OF SANTIAGO.

Schley Rehearses Story of the Famous Fight.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, testifying in his own behalf before the court of inquiry yesterday afternoon, got down to the subject of the battle of Santiago.

He said that on July 2 he had sent a message to Sampson advising him of suspicious movements of smoke in Santiago harbor, and he said, "I am quite sure it was answered."

Admiral Schley gave the impression that he expected the Spaniards out. He began a detailed story of the battle at 2:15.

The Brooklyn headed direct for the enemy. After ten or twelve minutes' turning with port helm he saw the leading ship make a rank sheer as if to ram.

Admiral Schley said that when it became apparent that the Spanish ships had succeeded in passing our battleship line Captain Cook gave the order to port the helm.

"I did not," he said. "I would have done it in a second. I asked Cook if the helm was aport, and he said it was; hard aport, I think.

"The turn was absolutely continuous. There was no easing of the helm. I never saw the starboard bow of the Texas. We never crossed her bow. We were never within 600 yards of her.

Admiral Schley said that the Brooklyn was within 1,100 yards at least of the nearest Spanish ship when the turn was made.

"I saw men running across the deck," he said. "I saw the daylight between their legs with my naked eyes."

Admiral Schley said that at one time the Brooklyn seemed to be engaged alone with all the Spanish ships. He described the killing of Ellis in feeling language. When they were about to throw the body overboard, the admiral said, he asserted, "No, not that for one who has fallen so gallantly." He said that the Brooklyn's signal halyards were shot away and one of the speed cones in falling nearly struck him. It fell overboard.

Admiral Schley in concluding his narrative of the battle, which was very dramatic, closed at 3 o'clock as follows:

"And that ended the battle of Santiago on the 3d day of July, 1898, and I must say that I was very much impressed with the officers and men engaged in that struggle, who fulfilled in the very highest and very noblest degree the traditions of the American navy."

A Czolgosz Sympathizer Painted Red.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 30.—A special from Plymouth, Wis., says Herman Dormeier, a shoemaker, about fifty years of age, was given a coat of red paint by an angry crowd because, it is said, of his expressed sympathy for President McKinley's assassin.

While there has been a disposition during the early days of the campaign to ignore the Amendment to the Constitution in the interest of personal registration, which will be voted upon at the November election, it now is being made one of the issues of the political contest in the State. The Registration Amendment is of the greatest importance, and it should not be lost sight of in the bitter factional and partisan contest which is waging around the election of State and county officers.

Notwithstanding the prominence given recently to the proposed amendment, there is a noticeable lack of knowledge on the part of many persons concerning the import and effect of the Registration Amendment. While in itself it does not provide for personal registration, yet it places within the hands of the Legislature power to enact personal registration laws at such future time as may be deemed best by the law-making body of the State. This would be a positive stride in the direction of reform in the election methods of the State, and as such should receive the unanimous support of all voters, irrespective of party or factional alliances.

The Registration Amendment is without partisan influence. It already has been endorsed by the Democratic State organization, the Municipal League and the Union party. Governor Stone has expressed the belief that it will be without opposition from the Republican organization and many other of the Republican leaders have declared themselves as heartily in favor of its adoption.

The Committee on Ballot Reform of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce has determined to give its attention to the pending Registration Amendment and has arranged for a meeting at which public attention will be called to the importance of the question. Former Mayor William Kennedy, of Pittsburg, in discussing the matter of the Registration Amendment, has this to say:

"I think personal registration should be made a condition of the exercise of the right to vote in all cities of this State. In the country it is not needed. There everybody knows everybody else and there is no need of it. But in the cities, with their large number of foreigners and their floating population, the opportunity which the present system offers for the voting of repeaters is practically unlimited. Personal registration would do away completely with this opportunity for fraud.

"Unfortunately, as I understand it, the question is to be submitted on the general ballots in such a way that it will not attract much attention and there is every reason to fear that the people may allow it to be defeated through overlooking it. Such a result would be a matter for profound regret and would greatly retard the cause of election reform."

The Democratic State Committee, at its recent meeting in Harrisburg, when the name of Mr. Coray was substituted for that of A. J. Palm for State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket, adopted the following:

"Whereas, We firmly believe that the adoption of the proposed Registration Amendment will secure in a great measure honesty in elections and make for the good of the people; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Democratic party pledges itself to the support of the proposed Registration Amendment and hereby calls upon all qualified electors in the State to join in the support of the same and use all lawful means to secure its adoption."

Mr Justice Potter.

It is now nearly two weeks since the Philadelphia Press gave a full and detailed statement of the shameful telephonic interviews between the Governor of Pennsylvania and his partner, Justice Potter, in reference to private consultations of the Justices of the Supreme Court when the Pittsburg "Ripper" bill was under consideration last spring.

Up to the present time Justice Potter has taken no action to relieve himself or the Supreme Court of the odium of The Press disclosures; nor have his associates on the Bench done so. If the highest tribunal of this Commonwealth is to retain the confidence and respect of the public some action will have to be taken. This scandal has gone all over the country. Every high-minded business and professional man and every honest Judge is disgusted at the imputation upon judicial integrity. In any other State in the Union than Pennsylvania such a situation would have been met by denial and disproof or steps toward removal or impeachment.

Suppose (if it be possible to suppose such a thing) that the President of the United States had appointed his law partner to the Supreme Court of the United States, and then had received from his partner not only information as to the standing of the Court in a case in which he was specially interested, but had been told that his informant, as a Justice, had to "scratch" to secure a favorable decision of a majority of the Court! The nation would not endure such an indignity for one day.

There is no question of politics involved. The coming election cannot relieve Justice Potter's fellow-Justices on the Supreme Bench from the necessity of taking steps to remove the stain which his action has cast upon that tribunal. No sensible man questions the verity of the report of the conversation between Justice Potter and Governor Stone published in The Press. It matters not where or how the evidence of the conversation was secured. The report is straightforward and plain, and the silence of Justice Potter is the firmest evidence of its truth.

Why should the reputable Justices of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania continue to sit with Justice Potter unless he shall relieve himself and the Court from the terrible charges now unanswered? There was a time when it was an honor to be a member of the Bar of Pennsylvania, and to be a Philadelphia lawyer was a badge of distinction; but if this betrayal by one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the methods by which he secured an opinion favorable to his partner is to be allowed to pass unnoticed by his associates on the Bench, by the Bar it may truly be said, as was stated by a writer in the Atlantic Monthly, that "the people of Pennsylvania are little better than degenerates."

Should the Supreme Court do nothing the Bar Associations ought to demand an investigation; and if the facts set forth by The Press should be established by evidence Justice Potter ought to be compelled to retire, or his fellow-Justices ought to refuse to sit with him. Moral leprosy is worse than physical leprosy.—Record.

Duty in An Off Election.

It is a very significant fact of this campaign that while the machine leaders know that they are losing ground, through the work of the courts in purging the voting lists which they have corrupted and by the action of thousands of Republicans who have formerly voted their tickets in coming out for the Union candidates, they hold their hopes high because they are placing dependence in the diminished vote of an off year.

For politicians of their kind there is no off year in politics. Their business is to vote, to make votes by crowding illegal names upon the lists and buying tax receipts for their use. Their campaign lasts three hundred and sixty-five days a year. If this were not so, or if the honest voters devoted one-tenth as much time to civic duties as the spoilsmen do to keeping themselves in office, the machine would not last a month. It would go to pieces at the first election.

In the matter of persistence and perseverance the spoilsmen set an example to the honest voters, who should profit by it. The only thing that can prevent the success of the Union movement will be the apathy of those who support it. If the reform cause is lost it will be by the votes that are not cast.

In the last off year in Pennsylvania—1898—the total vote for State Treasurer was only about 780,000, whereas only the year before in the gubernatorial election it was almost 200,000 more than that number, while last year it reached 1,174,000.

It can be accepted as certain that the machine will get out every vote it owns. There is no question whatever that on the full vote a great majority would be against its ticket, so that its confidence in any possibility of winning is based wholly upon the expectation that the total vote will fall several hundred thousand below the figures of full and active political years.

It is an old argument that seeks to impress upon the people the necessity of interest and action, but it loses none of its importance by repetition. The voters can have better government if they want it; they can defeat the machine if they take the trouble to do so; they can lift their city and State to higher respect if they will devote a little of their time to the work.—Phila. Times.

ANARCHY.

How Shall We Deal With Anarchy?

Since the President was shot down by an assassin, who claimed to be an Anarchist, various theories have been advanced as to how our people shall deal with Anarchists.

Scientists say that diseases in the human body spring from germs in the atmosphere, in the water we drink, or in food that we eat. Hence, the best way to get rid of disease is to destroy those germs.

Anarchy is a disease in the body politic. If we would get rid of this disease we must first ascertain what is the germ that breeds the disease.

An anarchist is one who disregards law and order. Any person who willfully violates law is, to a certain extent, an Anarchist. If this theory is correct, have we not Anarchy in a very brazen form among some of our most prominent citizens?

We have a law on our statute books forbidding all secular work on the Sabbath day. Yet cars are run on the Sabbath and we hardly hear a protest. Newspapers are published and circulated on the Sabbath, and not always filled with matter that tends to our spiritual nourishment and growth in grace. The man who willfully and deliberately desecrates the Sabbath is as guilty in the sight of God as the man who kills his fellow man.

Do you doubt this? The same God who said, "Thou shalt not kill," said also, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy." And the apostle says, "For whosoever shall keep the whole law and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all." I have no doubt that the laxity of professedly Christian nations, in regard to keeping the Sabbath, as we are taught in the Scripture to do (see Isa. 58:13–14), is one of the most prolific breeders of Anarchy that has been tolerated by this or any other nation.

If the flagrant crime committed by Leon Czolgosz awakes our people to a full sense of our duty to God and to man, the sacrifice of William McKinley will not be in vain.

We complain of foreigners coming to our shores and bringing their anarchistical theories and habits with them, and we have a right to complain. But we should also sweep before our own doors. We have native born Anarchists, and not a few. We have only to keep on as we are doing and the time will soon come when anarchy will be as fashionable as running cars or publishing newspapers on Sunday.

If we sew the seeds of lawlessness we may expect to reap a crop of Anarchists. God is not mocked. Whatsoever a man soweth that also shall he reap. It is, perhaps, true, that the major portion of those who teach and practice Anarchy in its worst form are foreigners. But if we, by our example and our influence, teach it in any form, we are not guiltless. We have no right to expect that men, brought up in ignorance of the laws of God and man, will stop just where we stop. If such men see that laws are violated with impunity by men in high places, they are apt to conclude that they may do the same.

William Goebel, of Kentucky, was just as foully murdered as was William McKinley, and one of the parties to that diabolical crime is a fugitive from justice, and under protection of the Governor of a neighboring state, who refuses to give him up, that he may pay the penalty due his crime, and he is doing this in violation of his official oath.

Leon Czolgosz has been promptly tried and convicted, and has paid the penalty of his crime. This is as it should be. But why one should be so summarily dealt with while another evades justice for years, and, perhaps, for life, is a matter that plain people are at a loss to understand.

Equal and exact justice to all and special privileges to none, is a motto that should be adopted in dealing with violators of the law, no matter what may be their station in life.

If we would have foreigners respect our laws we must have them made and executed in a manner that will command respect. Let it be distinctly understood that law is to be obeyed by high and low, rich and poor alike, and Anarchists will soon learn that our country is no congenial clime for them. JAY EYE SEE.

The Duty of Mothers.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment, and her mother should see that she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination: but no mother need hesitate to write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and secure from a woman the most efficient advice without charge.

Mrs. August Pfalzgraf, of South Byron, Wis., mother of the young lady whose portrait we here publish, wrote in January, 1899, saying her daughter had suffered for two years with irregular menstruation—had headache all the time, and pain in her side, feet swelled, and was generally miserable. She received an answer promptly with advice, and under date of March, 1899, the mother writes again that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her daughter of all pains and irregularity.

Nothing in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's great medicine for regulating woman's peculiar monthly troubles.

STATE TICKET.

JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT,
HON. HARMAN YERKES.

STATE TREASURER,
ELISHA A. CORAY, JR.

COUNTY TICKET.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE,
JAMES T. FOX.

COUNTY SURVEYOR,
BOYD TRESCOTT.

TO THE VOTERS OF COLUMBIA CO.

On the 5th day of November, 1901, the people of this State will elect a Justice of the Supreme Court and a State Treasurer. In addition to this, important amendments to the Constitution will be voted for.

If the voters of the State decide in favor of the proposed amendments to the Constitution a decided step in the direction of ballot reform and honest elections will be taken.

The Democratic party has placed in nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court a man who has no political debts to pay, and whose only duty will be to hand from the highest Court of the State justice to all parties, without distinction to any class or set of men. He has been endorsed by all political organizations whose platform is "Cleaner Politics and Better State Government."

For State Treasurer the Democratic party has endorsed Hon. E. A. Coray, a man who is fearless and whose only aim is to do his duty.

In the county we have but two offices to fill, to wit: Associate Judge and County Surveyor. For Associate Judge Hon. James T. Fox has been nominated. Judge Fox has filled this same position for nearly a term and his record is sufficient evidence that his aim is to do right and perform his duty. For County Surveyor Boyd Trescott, Esq., has been nominated. Of him it can be said he is the right man in the right place.

We, therefore, urge upon all citizens the importance of going to the polls and cast their ballots, see to it that their neighbors go out. Perform this duty of citizenship. Let there be no stay-at-homes in Columbia county.

C. A. SMALL,
County Chairman.

Election next Tuesday.

If the Democrats ever hope to relieve the state from the grip of Quayism, this is the year to vote.

Representative Harris may yet learn what the farmers of Pennsylvania want. They will be at the polls next Tuesday.

Independent Republicans can vote a straight ticket by marking a cross in the circle at the top of the column marked "Union."

Democrats can vote a straight ticket by marking a cross in the top of the second column of the ballot. Don't forget to mark "yes" for the amendments at the bottom.

Candidate Harris will find that Pennsylvania farmers know a ringster when they see him. They also know an honest man by his works, and that is why they will vote for Coray.

No more important election was ever held in Pennsylvania than that of next Tuesday. The issue is between men of all parties who want honest government on the one side, and a lawless machine on the other. Which do you want?

Orders have gone out from the Republican state Committee, to defeat the constitutional amendments if possible. These amendments provide for honest registration, and for a system of voting that will prevent false counting. These the machine does not want. That is good enough reason why everybody opposed to the machine should vote for the amendments.

WHAT THE FARMERS WANT.

Mr. Harris, the Quay candidate for State Treasurer, in a reckless speech at the last session of the Legislature wherein he was the abject slave of the ring, exclaimed: "The farmers don't seem to know what they want." When the returns of the election are in this stupid fling may be answered to the great discomfiture of Mr. Harris. Farmers, like all honest citizens, want honest government, and they mean to have it. They know the record of Coray and Harris, that the Reform Candidate for State Treasurer was the faithful servant of the people, while the choice of the corrupt bosses was their willing tool all the time. He voted against or dodged many good measures and supported every iniquitous bill that was in the interest of the Quay combine.

Vote for Coray.

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW.

It is a significant fact, as noted by Democratic journals of the state, that in the present campaign the people seem to be doing their own thinking. For many years they have observed the suggestive earnestness of the Quay combine when a state treasurer is to be elected. They have been led to believe that there is something which they ought to know, which has been kept from them, and they have about made up their minds that they will solve this great mystery. Senator Penrose, in a recent elaborate speech, tried to make it appear that the public records of the treasury vindicated Republican management. He claimed that there was no evidence of wrong doing, etc. All this may be true, but every one knows that while the official statements alluded to give nothing away that hurts anybody, the story is not thus told in full.

A mere summary of receipts and expenditures is not what is wanted. It is the between-times doings that the taxpayers are after. For instance, at one period recently, the treasury had on hand $8,000,000 in cash. Think of the possibilities of self enrichment herein embodied. The banks only pay the state two per cent. interest. How much more is paid—somebody else, and to what extent is the tempting opportunity for illegal and dangerous speculation utilized? Further, an honest treasurer can prevent the looting of the public chest by legislative raiders in many ways. Then the power of control over those interested in the management of the favored banking institutions has been systematically used to raise large campaign and corruption funds in aid of the machine and its candidates.

The treasury, indeed, has been the citadel of the ring for a generation and more. Such an inquisitive and fearless investigator as Mr. Coray, might find out many queer things and the people seem to be determined to give this intrepid foe of the machine a chance to "root" at will; to turn on the light and show up the whole business. This spirit of curiosity will be turned to good account at the polls next week. There is no partisan issue at stake. It is a plain question of open and honest management of the public finances against the odious and costly method of the long entrenched ring. There surely will be a great vote this year for this practical reform candidate for state treasurer.

A LAST WORD TO VOTERS.

The duty of the hour is clearly and earnestly set forth in the address of the Democratic state committee, which appears in another column. There never has been a campaign, in this or any other state, in which baffled and desperate political ringsters used more disreputable methods to gain their ends. The attempt to prevent Democratic voters having a chance to express themselves at the polls was part of a characteristic scheme, conceived three months ago. It was hoped to consume so much time in a baseless contest in the Dauphin county court that the endorsement of the reform candidate for state treasurer would not be secured in time to have Mr. Coray's name appear in the Democratic column on the ballot.

But this cowardly movement of the frightened enemy was promptly met and defeated. The way is open for a successful union of reform forces and from all parts of the state the same story comes. The people are aroused as they have not been in many years, and they are going to come out next Tuesday and vote down the Quay combine and also save the supreme court from the disgraceful presence of a man who has shown himself utterly unfit to sit in that high tribunal.

Chairman Creasuy urges hard work all along the line and if this suggestion is complied with there is every reason to believe that Yerkes and Coray will be elected. The contest in Philadelphia will be close and that means a splendid chance for fusion to win in the state. For years ballot box stuffers in that city have made a mockery of elections, but this time they are confronted by an organization that is strong enough and couragous enough to prevent a repetition of their monstrous crimes. The fusion candidates are both men of such superior excellence and high claims upon public confidence that every honest citizen should be glad to cast his ballot in their support. A full vote and an honest count, next Tuesday, will mean the redemption of Pennsylvania. Work and vote for Yerkes and Coray.

MISSION OF TRUE DEMOCRACY.

For a full quarter of a century, the Democratic party in Pennsylvania has been battling with the vicious and corrupt forces that have at times so deeply disgraced the majority party that the conscience of Republican voters has rebelled. Every reform victory won in Philadelphia, Pittsburg or any part of the state, has been chiefly the work of patriotic Democratic voters, who have courageously performed their duty at the polls. Twice an honest and fearless executive was elected and in the face of the most discouraging obstacles a substantial working force has served the people most effectively. The true spirit of Democracy is always hostile to the elements represented by Quayism in any form.

So in the present campaign for the rescue of the state treasury from the control of the ring and the protection of the court of last resort from demoralizing machine contamination, the Democratic citizenship of the commonwealth must be looked to for six-sevenths of the voters necessary to secure the success of the fusion movement. That the rank and file of the party will be fully equal to the occasion there can be no manner of doubt. They recognize the supreme fact that in such a contest mere partisanship must be secondary; that the first duty is to the state. Thus they are ready to join hands with the foes of machine misrule at every point. Their purpose is to overthrow the enemies of honest government and to that end their votes will be cast next Tuesday in solid array. A victory for fusion will be the triumph of pure democracy, for this combined effort is in behalf of the principles for which honest Democrats have always valiantly contended.

That success can be won is clear enough, if patriotic men fully realize their opportunity and their duty. There are 500,000 Democrats in Pennsylvania today and they have never had a better chance to express their convictions. A vote for Yerkes and Coray means the condemnation of the worst ring that ever cursed any state; an effective protest against every form of political and official debasement. These reform candidates stand for the practical exemplification of bedrock American principles. They meet the Jeffersonian requirements. They are clean, able, experienced, honest and courageous. It is the mission of true Democracy to support such candidates at all times. Let every Democratic voter, therefore, go to the polls and help to strike down the long entrenched ring of public pirates that have misruled and plundered the commonwealth.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up feeling rested and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. J. N. PERRY, care H. S. AN INSPIRING SPECTACLE.

Partisanship has a deep and lasting hold upon men who live under Republican government. Close association in political work is necessary to successful effort. Parties there must be and always will be. American citizens who believe in Democratic principles have always been distinguished for their fidelity and earnestness. The party of their choice has rounded a century and those who adhere to it never were firmer in their convictions than today. But true Democrats have always been patriots. They love their country and are ever ready to serve it. They have abiding faith in its institutions. Their zeal for its welfare reflects the highest honor upon the national character. Therefore, Democrats are capable of meeting every requirement of good citizenship. They can lay aside partisan preference when the public exigency demands it.

This is the situation in Pennsylvania today. Animated by a supreme desire to promote the best interests of the people, regardless of partisan advantage, the representatives of the party have opened the way for a union of all the elements opposed to the vicious forces which have so long and so corruptly ruled the state. There is but a single patriotic aim; therefore, the protest against misgovernment can only be made effective through united action at the polls. Every good citizen can help to strike down public enemies by working and voting for the candidates who represent the very best sentiment of both the great parties in Pennsylvania. The way is clear and the duty imperative.

A vote for Yerkes means the upholding of the highest standard of judicial ability and integrity; the protection of the court of last resort from the contamination of evil influences. Every citizen is vitally interested in the maintenance of the purity of the tribunals of justice. A vote for Coray means a direct and effective protest against the prostitution of public office to base selfiesh purposes. The state treasury has been the citadel of power within which a conscienceless and corrupt ring have been entrenched for nearly 40 years. To drive them out, open the books and enforce honest administration, is the bounden duty of voters this year. The chance to do this has never been so favorable.

Let the reform ticket be supported at the polls by every man who believes in honest government and the greatest victory for political righteousness ever known will be won on November 5. It is an inspiring spectacle to see hundreds of thousands of patriotic men earnestly joining hands in a good cause, forgetting for the time being all partisanship. Pennsylvania has thus attracted the attention of the whole country and the success of this long needed movement here will encourage like efforts elsewhere. The campaign will be very brief, but every day should add to the enthusiasm and vigor of the grand rally for the redemption of our great state from degrading and blighting misrule.

The fight against Coray's nomination by the Democrats proved a disastrous boomerang for the frightened ring. And now they are worse demoralized than ever.

There was great excitement at the Opera House Saturday evening, although the audience was in ignorance of it until it was all over. To produce the proper effect in the tableaux at the end of the first act, colored lights were used. In burning the powder one of the assistant stage hands thoughtlessly poured too much of it out at one time. The consequence was that the fire pan became so hot that he could not hold it. The blaze was communicated to some drapery nearby and in an instant one whole scene was on fire. Paul Harman and W. H. Coffman who stood on the opposite side of the stage rushed across and securing the hose which is kept for such contingencies, succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before any serious damage was done. H. C. Jones, an attache of the Opera House, is also deserving of credit for the manner in which he conducted himself during the excitement. It was he who turned on the water and he also assisted in keeping back the many little folks who were on the stage at the time. Mr. Harman and Mr. Coffman are the only ones who were any the worse for the accident, they had their hands slightly burned. It was a close call, because had the alarm of fire been given, with the building filled as it was with people a panic would have resulted.

For Croquet Sets, from 85c. to $2.25, go to Mercer's Drug & Book Store.

The residence of Mrs. Bridget Holleran, at Rupert was totally destroyed by fire Monday morning. But little of the furniture was saved and the loss is a severe one to Mrs. Holleran, as she had no insurance. A defective flue was the cause of the fire.

Willie, a fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stitzel, of Moreland township, Lycoming county, was attacked and gored to death by a vicious bull on Tuesday. He was sent after the cattle which were pasturing in a field some distance from the house and when he did not return, his father instituted a search. He was found horribly mangled, and taken to the house where death occurred shortly after.

On Halloween it has been the practice to indulge in very rough amusements, and to play so-called jokes and tricks that amount to malicious mischief, which are punishable in the courts. Throwing soot, flour, corn, cabbage, and other articles; stealing shutters and gates, may seem very funny to those who indulge in it, but they are very annoying to the victims and it ought to be prevented. Chief Knorr gives notice that anyone caught engaging in any rough or injurious acts will be arrested. An example made of one or two will put a stop to it.

Mr. Brown is a young man of probity, who has been tireless in his efforts to aid worthy objects in the past. The house should be crowded to the doors on Thursday evening next. Remember two big shows all for one admission.

At the next meeting of the local fire board, an amendment to increase the term of the Chief of the department from one to three years will be considered. The board is composed of two members from each company. The Winonas held a meeting Tuesday evening and instructed its representatives to vote in favor of the proposed amendment.

PURELY PERSONAL

Thos. F. Young of Benton was in town on Tuesday.

Miss Bess Rawlings is serving as cashier in B. A. Gidding's clothing store this week.

Miss Martha E. Dodson, one of Berwick's fascinating young ladies, enjoyed a trolley ride to Bloomsburg, Monday.

Lambert McHenry left on Monday for WilkesBarre, where he will play cornet in Oppenheimer's Grand Opera House Orchestra during the theatrical season.

The Democratic press of Pennsylvania never made a finer showing of genuine patriotism than during the present fight for the honor of the commonwealth. It is an aggressive unit for a successful movement against the combined public plunderers. Vote for Yerkes and Coray.

No right thinking American citizen can have any respect for a judge of any court who secretly gives away in advance its decisions. Such unprofessional and unjudicial conduct in a member of the highest tribunal in the state is to be condemned without mercy. Vote for Yerkes.

This is the year when the Democratic voters of Pennsylvania are coming out with their fighting clothes on. That means a great vote for Yerkes and Coray, two of the best candidates ever presented for the suffrages of the ling suffering people of this state.

This is the year when a great non-partisan movement in Pennsylvania means the overthrow of Quayism and all that it implies. This is why the machine is working secretly but desperately to keep its grip on the state treasury.

During the last session of the most corrupt legislature Pennsylvania ever knew, the machine forces united to serve themselves. Now it is the people's chance to stand together in their own interests. Vote for Yerkes and Coray.

In politics the honest citizen always should find out what the machine wants him to do, and then quietly vote the other way. Mark your ballot for the reform candidates, Yerkes and Coray.

The members of the bar in all parts of the state are disgusted with Potter and without regard to party they will work and vote for the clean and high-minded candidate for the supreme bench, Judge Yerkes.

A vote for Coray means the turning of the rascals out, and the turning on of the light. Get your neighbor to join you in voting for the Fusion candidate for state treasurer.

With Coray in charge of the state treasury there will be no big "rake off" for the machine; no due bills in the cash drawer for the benefit of Quay hirelings.

Coray's brilliant legislative record worried the Quay roosters. Wait till he gets in the state treasury and there will be a rise in the price of carpet bags.

Fusion has won splendid victories in various parts of the state. Let it now be carried out on a large scale and the taxpayers will never regret it.

Bring out the vote in every county and in every election district and the defeat of the Quay combine is as sure as the rising of the sun next Tuesday.

Now is the time to lift the lid and show what has been going on in the state treasury during the past 40 years. Vote for Coray.

JAMES REILLY & SON,

BARBERS AND HAIRDRESSERS.

STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS.

EXCHANGE BLOCK, SECOND FLOOR

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Oct. 28, 1901.

When President Roosevelt left Washington on Monday afternoon for New Haven he left behind him a sadly disgruntled politician in the person of Senator Platt of New York who was nursing his wrath in his apartments at the Arlington Hotel. When the Senator was in Washington some weeks ago he discussed New York politics with the President and, while Mr. Roosevelt did not actually commit himself, he went home with the impression that he was to have things pretty much his own way. His most important request had been for the removal of Appraiser Wakeman who is said to have shown too keen an appreciation of his duty to the government and far too small an appreciation of the allegiance due to the Republican dictator of New York. For the good of the machine discipline it was essential that Wakeman's scalp should dangle from the dictator's belt. Mr. Roosevelt had diplomatically promised "to look into the matter" and Mr. Platt supposed his object was accomplished.

On investigation, it is said, Mr. Roosevelt found nothing to warrant Mr. Wakeman's removal and consequently no change was made. Finally Senator Platt, notwithstanding the fact that he had previously intimated that Secretary Gage was not minding his own business in recommending Mr. George Whitehead for the appraisership, joined forces with the Secretary of the Treasury and wrote to the President endorsing Mr. Whitehead and still he heard nothing from the President. Finally on last Sunday he came to Washington and again he got no satisfaction. That evening he wired to Governor Odell and early next morning Odell appeared in Washington and breakfasted with the President, but the President left for New Haven without giving the slightest satisfaction to either of the gentlemen and it is understood that they held a consolation meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York on Tuesday evening.

Senator Platt has also found Secretary Gage a weak reed on which to lean for the Secretary of the Treasury, whose attitude is, "I'll endorse anything if you won't ask for my resignation," has reconsidered his position and expressed himself to the President to the effect that he "guesses Wakeman is not so bad, after all." The belief that Seth Low stands little likihood of election does not add to Platt's influence and the calm dignity with which Croker smiles and "keeps sayin' nothin' " is an additional aggravation to the New York boss.

While the Republicans are trying to make the best of the appointment of William Dudley Foulke to the Civil Service Commissionership, they are by no means pleased with the appointment. It is understood that Mr. Foulke exacted from the President, before accepting the appointment, a promise that he should have full sway under the law in the administration of the affairs of the commission and that means that a good many of the prerogatives of Republican Congressmen will be cut off. The Commission has, in the past, been obliged to wink at many things in order to secure as much freedom as they have had, but in the future, with Mr. Foulke as President of the Commission, for it is stated that Mr. Proctor will resign the presidency in Mr. Foulk's favor, the Commission promises to stand seriously in the way of many of the petty little patronage schemes concocted by Republican Congressmen.

It seems as if the Fifty-seventh Congress would be compelled to investigate the Navy Department. On top of the Schley-Sampson affair comes the report from the captain of the Alabama that a large percentage of the shells, which of course had been inspected and marked "O. K." by representatives of the Department, was found to be defective and that the premature bursting of one of them completely disabled the port, thirteen inch gun. Morever, the story of the Department's permitting the cruiser Columbia to go to rack and ruin in the League Island navy yard will not stay as completely buried as Secretary Long thought it would, as is evidenced by inquiries into the subject that are being made by some of the Congressmen who are coming to Washington. Altogether there is ample warrant for an investigation and if some unruly Congressman, with more regard for his own standing with his constituents than for the good of the party, does not persist in dragging Secretary Long's skeletons out of the closet it will be surprising.

The Marquis Ito, who was for a number of years Prime Minister of Japan, lunched with the President on Monday. Mr. Roosevelt urged him to return to Washington after receiving his degree at New Haven, as he wished to give a dinner in his honor, but the Marquis declined the invitation, alleging the condition of his health and the political situation in Japan as his excuse. The Marquis told the President that the commerce of his country now amounted to more than $250,000,000 per annum, that Japan had 846 steamers with an aggregate tonnage exceeding 528,000 tons and that she had built up all this within the last thirty years, that the time would come and that it was not far off when, next to the United States, Japan would be the greatest commercial power on the Pacific Ocean and he expressed gratification that the relations between the United States and Japan were so cordial and assured the President that Japan would lose no opportunity to more closely cement the bond of friendship.

Postmaster Coyne of Chicago was in Washington this week urging the Department to give him more space as he says he is sorely cramped in the present temporary post office and that it will be from three to four years before the new government building is ready for occupancy. Mr. Coyne also predicted that by that time the new post office would be too small for the requirements of his force, a statement which rather startled the authorities until they remembered that Mr. Coyne was from Chicago and that, as one of them expressed it, "his statements must be taken cum grano salis. The recent robbery of stamps amounting to over $75,000, from the Chicago post office and various stamp robberies of smaller amounts all over the country are likely to lead the postmaster General to ask the coming Congress to enact a law prohibiting the sale of stamps by anyone other than a government agent. Such a law it is believed, would, to a large extent, remove the incentive to rob post offices.

* * *

The remains of Senator Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota and who was for so many years chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations were brought to Washington this week by his widow and interred at Arlington, in the officers' division, a lot having been set aside for him by the War Department.

Bucknell vs. Gettysburg.

On Saturday, Nov. 2nd, Bucknell will play a game of football with Gettysburg, which will be the great game of the season on the home grounds (Lewisburg). The greatest interest is centered on this game by the friends of both colleges and a large crowd is expected. The game will be called at 2:30 P. M. Admission 35 cents.

Children's Fertilizer.

That's a good name for Scott's Emulsion. Children are like young plants. Some will grow in ordinary soil. Others need fertilizers.

The nature of some children prevents them from thriving on ordinary food Such children grow right if treated right.

All they need is a little fertilizer—a little extra richness. Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment.

Fertilizers make things grow. That's just what Scott's Emulsion does. It makes children grow in flesh, grow in strength, grow rich blood, grow in mind, grow happy. That's what we make it for.

THE MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Mysterious Man of the Hotel. That was the name he passed by among those who futilely sought to ascertain his business. He was debonair; he wore diamonds; he deposited $700 in bank when he arrived, he went hunting and knew practically nothing of the sport; and he didn't seem to have an object in life.

Then he took a definite interest in life. He fell in love with a maid at the hotel, and on Sunday, October 20th, Charles Milliman was united in marriage to Miss Maud Heilman, by Rev. Dr. Shindel. And still he lived at the hotel.

And now the mystery will be solved. He was a New York detective. About six weeks or more ago, the firm of H. B. Claflin & Co., in that city was robbed of about $35,000 by its book-keeper. The latter, of course, disappeared. Detectives were sent out. Among them was the Mysterious Man.

He traced the embezzler to Wilkes-Barre. There, at a hotel, he got a glimpse at the contents of a letter which the embezzler had written to his wife in New York. In it the embezzler told her to meet him at Sunbury, yesterday; to watch carefully lest she be followed, and in that case to throw her "shadowers" off the track, if possible. It was a clever scheme, but Mysterious Man was a second edition of Old Sleuth.

He came to Danville two weeks ago; he appeared and acted as the opening paragraph would indicate, and patiently waited for the denouement, falling in love and getting married being but an incident in his career. None took him to be a detective. He seemed too guileless and unconcerned to fit the accepted description.

Yesterday he went to Sunbury, accompanied by John Fisher. He met and gobbled his man, and put him in Sunbury jail for safe-keeping. He drove back here after the exploit, and Jake Winters took the team back to Sunbury. This morning, Milliman left for Sunbury, to take his prisoner on to New York. It is a big capture, and this is why The Mysterious Man is no longer Mysterious. He will get $2,500.—Danville Sun.

A Sleeper.

A sleeper is one who sleeps; and a sleeper is a saloon carriage on a railway train in which the sleeper sleeps; and a sleeper is a tie under the rails on which the sleeper in which the sleeper sleeps is run. Now, then, when the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper that is carried over the sleeper under the sleeper in which the sleeper sleeps, the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper until the sleeper in which the sleeper sleeps jumps off the sleeper, and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper by bumping against the sleeper until there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper in which the sleeper sleeps.

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicines, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the pill habit.

WORKINGMEN, IT'S UP TO YOU

Here Are Facts For the Toiler to Consider.

The election is at hand and every citizen should cast an honest intelligent vote—a vote unstained by threat or bribe. The laboring man who does not vote to defend himself, his family and his business against men who have refused to aid him when he needed help, ought to lose his right to cast a ballot. The laboring man who does not vote as he strikes, in favor of better wages and better conditions is false to himself, to his family and to his fellow workingman.

Hon. E. A. Coray, Jr., who is now a candidate for state treasurer was also a member of the legislature and voted for every one of the laboring man's bills. F. A. Harris is also a candidate for state treasurer and he was likewise a member of the last legislature. How did he vote on their bills? He did'nt vote at all, but played the coward and dodged every one of them, and yet he has the impudence to ask workingmen to vote for him.

Mr. Coray voted for the employer's liability act, allowing the laboring man the right to sue for damages if he is injured by the fault of an employer.

How did Mr. Harris vote? Just as he always did, against the interests of the common people and in favor of corporations. Every man who earns his bread by honest toil owes it to himself and his fellows to do all he can against Harris and all his kind. Coray was always right. Harris was always wrong. Vote for Coray and your own interests.

THE WAY TO SECURE HONEST ELECTIONS

Every Citizen Should Vote For the Constitutional Amendments.

The proposed amendment to the constitution in the interest of personal registration is one of the most important matters that will come before the people at the November election. While the general interest revolves around the election of the state and county officers, the fact should not be lost sight of that the registration amendment is a direct stride in the direction of reform in the methods of conducting the elections in Pennsylvania. The defeat of the amendment at the coming election will prevent its reintroduction in the legislature within a period of five years.

The registration amendment has been endorsed by the new Union party, the Democratic organization and the independent lement generally. At the same time many individual leaders of the Republican party have expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the amendment.

The proposed amendment discriminates between the cities and the country, enabling the legislature, in providing for personal registration, to confine it to the larger cities of the commonwealth.

This discrimination between the cities and the rural district is in recognition of the fact that to compel personal registration in the country would entail only hardship and needless expense, without bringing about any good result. Personal registration in Philadelphia and the larger cities of the state means the practical elimination of the fraud which has become notorious in connection with the elections.

SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?

How the Quay Ring Violates the Law In Philadelphia.

In a recent speech at an enthusiastic Democratic meeting in Philadelphia, ex-Governor Pattison said:

"The old adage that 'in union there is strength' was never truer than it is in this canvass. The same uniformity of purpose that was necessary in the early '60's for the preservation of the nation is essential today to preserve the integrity of our city. I do not recall a campaign in 30 years in which the citizens of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania presented such a united front against a debauched and disgraceful rule as they do today.

"The men who are in power today have an absolute disregard for the constitution, upon which all legislation is based. Instead of a government of the people, for the people and by the people, the condition that we have today is a government of officeholders, for officeholders and by officeholders.

"Consider one part of it alone—the ballot laws. That no policeman, no firemen, no city officials shall interfere in elections or try in any way to control or influence the people's votes. And what have we today? As I learned in a recent tour of the wards, the city is absolutely under the power of these men. At every polling place you will find 15 or 20 officeholders with clubs. The old-fashioned people would never have allowed that; they fought for their rights. How long are we going to allow it?

"And yet there are some of us who are indifferent to all this, who say 'my family first, then my state.' Fellow citizens, the first duty of every man is to his state—if it were not for his state he would have no family. We must throw off this yoke. I believe sincerely that we will be restored to our own on election day."

Judge Yerkes' election to the supreme bench is demanded by every consideration for the public interests. Justice Potter has made a record that is a disgrace to the whole state.

Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty,. Many women dread that period when they must experience change of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

HELP THE OVERWORKED HEART.—Is the great engine which pumps life through your system hard pressed, overtaxed, groaning under its load because disease has clogged it? Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is nature's lubricator and cleanser, and daily demonstrates to heart sufferers that it is the safest, surest, and most speedy remedy that medical science knows.

DR. AGNEW'S CATARRHAL POWDER.—Rev. W. H. Main, pastor of the Baptist Memorial Church, Buffalo, gives strong testimony for and is a firm believer in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. He has tried many kinds of remedies without avail. "After using Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder I was benefited at once," are his words. It is a wonderful remedy. 50 cents. 33

The November "New" Lippincott.

November's issue of the "New Lippincott Magazine" contains a novel begun and ended in this number—written by a member of New York's "four hundred," Isabelle D. Cameron, the youngest daughter of the late Sir Roderick Cameron, of Scotland. Her perfect knowledge of the social paths in which she leads her "brain children" in "One Woman's Life" and her spicy plot make a fascinating story. The heroine is a young American widow with an aptitude for enjoying herself. Flirtations, yachting, and love making at a rather fast pace she indulges in, though she does not live down to the advice she bestows on a young girl friend, "Be good if you can, and if you can't, be careful, and you will find it answers just as well."

Mabel Nelson Thurston's name has become welcome to all who enjoy true portrayals of everyday people. Her story, "The Courting of Gabriel Seabury," shows this at her best. "The Minority Committee" is the title of Paul Laurence Dunbar's story of Ohio rural life, which the author knows as well as he does the Southern negro. John V. Sears, editor of the Philadelphia "Telegraph," contributes an amusing story called "Ballanafad." Mrs. J. K. Hudson's story, called "Another Woman's Letters," keeps alive the vein of pathos for which she is best known.

George Moore's remarkable paper, entitled "My Own Funeral," shows his distinctive cleverness and literary excellence. He opens the subject by referring to his death, which must come "certainly not later than 1930," and says, "My heir will go to Hampstead Heath on Bank Holiday and, with the antique gesture of the sower, scatter me under the passing hoofs of the donkeys." This is in all respects a paper worthy of the author of "Esther Waters."

"Recollections of Rossetti," by his friend, Herbert H. Gilchrist, tells of visits which he made to the artist. Anna Lea Merritt, the artist author, contributes "Suggestions for an Alpine and Marsh Garden." The paper is accompanied by the author's own drawings and contains information of the utmost value in this gardea-loving age. "A Woman's Trip to the Klondike" is by Emma L. Kelly, the first woman to follow the trail from Topeka to Dawson.

The "New Lippincott's" verse this month shows both discrimination and variety in selection. "With Rossetti's 'House of Life,'" by Walter Ives, accompanies Mr. Gilchrist's unique paper; "Autumn," by Florence Earle Coates, is a lyrical gem of the first water; "The Unsuccessful," by Geraldine Meybrick; "Returning," by Douglas Malloch; "Only the Heart Has Wings," by Ida Whipple Benham; "Fifty," by Rubie Carpenter; "An Idle Day," by Clinton Scollard; and "Lines," by Robert Loveman, are all poems above the standard of magazine verse.

The departments, "Books of the Autumn" and "Walnuts and Wine," amply fulfill their purposes. In the latter humor flows from such pens as Elliott Flower, Laurence Porcher Hext, Henry M. Wiltse, J. L. Harbour, and others.

You can convince a shoemaker that an honest confession is good for the sole.

WILD WEST WRECKED

One Hundred and Ten of "Buffalo Bill's" Horses Killed.

A COLLISION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Out of Two Carloads of Horses Only Two Animals Escaped—Final Engagement of the Season Canceled.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 30.—One hundred and ten of the ring horses of "Buffalo Bill's" Wild West show were crushed to death in a railroad wreck near Lexington. Among the horses killed was Old Pap, Colonel Cody's favorite saddle horse. Old Eagle, the star ring horse, was killed, and his mangled body fell on top of one of the wrecked engines. The mules that drew the Deadwood coach were also killed. Colonel Cody spent the day at the scene of the wreck and is heartbroken over the slaughter. He says his loss is $60,000.

The accident was the result of a head end collision between a fast southbound freight train and the second section of the show train and was due to a misunderstanding of orders. Several train hands were injured, but no one was killed.

Twelve thousand people greeted the Wild West show in Charlotte, and it left at midnight for Danville, Va., where it was to have made its last stand of the season. At Danville the show was to have disbanded and the animals sent to Bridgeport, Conn., to go into winter quarters.

The show left here in three sections. Near Lexington, as the second section was going twenty miles an hour, a fast southbound freight train crashed into it. Both engines were wrecked. Next to the engine of the show train were two large stock cars, containing the horses, and this is where the slaughter occurred.

The cars were smashed into a huge, distorted heap of debris, and only two horses escaped alive. The scene was sickening. From the mass of wreckage blood poured in a small rivulet. Colonel Cody's engagement at Danville was canceled in consequence of the disaster, which marked the close of a very successful tour.

A Score Burned to Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Nineteen dead and a property loss amounting to about $500,000 are the awful results of a fire which occurred yesterday in the business section of the city. The number of injured is not known definitely, but fully a score of victims were treated at various hospitals. Police and firemen are still delving into the ruins in search of bodies supposed to have been buried beneath the debris, as it is feared that others besides the known dead may have lost their lives in the flames. The buildings destroyed were the eight story structure 1219 and 1221 Market street, occupied by Hunt, Wilkinson & Co., upholsterers and furniture dealers, and three three story buildings occupied by small merchants. The big furniture building extended back a half block to Commerce street and was owned by Henry C. Lea.

Fishing Season Closed.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 30.—The fishing season of 1900-1901 is now practically over, and the tribute in loss of life and property which the ocean yearly demands of this fishing port can be approximately made. Sixty-two men killed or drowned and nine vessels lost comprise the casualties. The year's losses are heavier than last year, which was the smallest in twenty-three years. The sixty-two men left seventeen widows and thirty-five children. This makes the average loss for the past twenty-four years of ninety-five men each year. The nine vessels lost had a registered tonnage of 617 tons, valued at $67,000, and on which there was an insurance of $52,843.

A Thrilling Chase.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—A desperate man fought his way clear of two city detectives here and after a thrilling chase made good his escape. In his race for liberty he utilized a two horse wagon team, a horse and buggy and a riding horse, all forcibly taken, while two dead bloodhounds mark the first portion of his trail.

Officers believe the man is one of the gang that held up the Great Northern express near Wagner, Mon., last June, his attempt to get change for a $20 bill of the series secured in that robbery attracting attention of the police to him.

Ninety Guests Poisoned.

BATH, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Physicians of this place were telephoned to hurry as fast as possible to Cass Corners, Campbell Creek, Buck Settlement and South Howard, all of which places are hamlets within a short distance of Bath. The aid of the doctors was needed to attend about ninety people who were suffering from symptoms of poisoning, the nature of which has not been determined. One hundred guests were at a wedding party, and after the party was over ninety of the guests, including the officiating clergyman, the Rev. George Scherer, were prostrated.

A Duchess Born.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Duchess of Manchester, who was Miss Helena Zimmerman of Cincinnati, was accouched of a daughter Saturday. Both mother and the child are doing well. The infant will receive the names Mary Alva Montagu.

The Typhus Epidemic Spreading.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The total number of cases of typhus officially reported in Bochum is 1,329. Thus far there have been 27 deaths, while only 192 have completely recovered. The epidemic has now spread to Bachem and Luedenscheid.

IS MISS STONE DEAD?

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—The Russian foreign office is still co-operating heartily with the United States officials in the efforts to obtain the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, and her companion, Mme. K. S. Tsilka, who were captured by brigands Sept. 3.

M. Bakhmetieff, the Russian representative at Sofia, who is married to an American, is displaying much energy in co-operating with United States Consul General Dickinson of Constantinople.

In government circles at Sofia the impression appears to be that Miss Stone is dead. Measures are being taken by Mr. Dickinson and M. Bakhmetieff to learn definitely whether she is alive or not.

Negotiations Opened.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—"It is officially stated that the United States legation in Constantinople has opened direct negotiations with Miss Stone's captors," says a dispatch from Sofia to The Daily Telegraph. "The Bulgarian government has allowed the celebrated Rilo Kloster (southwest of Samakov) to be searched and two suspected monks to be arrested."

Information Is Unsatisfactory.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 30.—Spencer Eddy, secretary of the United States legation here, and W. W. Peet, treasurer of the American mission at Constantinople, had a long conference on the subject of Miss Stone yesterday. The information from the missionaries who are near the brigands' retreat is far from satisfactory.

BOTHA'S CLOSE CALL.

Boer Commander's Hat and Pistol In British Hands.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from Pretoria says that Remington's column has surprised the laager of General Botha, the Boer commander in chief. General Botha succeeded in making his escape a few hundred yards in advance of Remington's men, leaving his hat and revolver behind. General Botha's papers were secured.

The war office has received a dispatch from Lord Kitchener saying that General Methuen reports the Boer commandants Delarey and Kemp attacked Vandonop's column on Oct. 24 near the Great Marico river. The attack, which was made with great determination, was repulsed after severe fighting. The Boers left forty dead on the field, including Commandant Oosterhuysen. Two British officers and twenty-six men were killed and five officers and fifty men wounded. The Boers captured eight wagons.

General French reports that the Boers in the eastern part of Cape Colony continue to avoid his columns.

Lord Kitchener states that since his last weekly report on Oct. 21 74 Boers have been killed, 16 wounded, 352 captured, and there have been 45 surrenders. Lord Kitchener also confirms the previous report of General Botha's narrow escape from being captured.

Forest Fires In Pennsylvania.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 28.—The western slope of the Alleghany mountains through Fayette county is now ablaze from the Yough river through into West Virginia, and mountaineers are fleeing from their doomed homes with their families. Careless hunters started a dozen fires during the past week, and the brush is as dry as tinder. Streams that were never known to go dry are without water, and only a drenching rain will stop the swiftly spreading destruction. The fire has been spreading for a week, and the glare at night can be seen for miles. The destruction has been enormous to crops, fences, barns, stock and dwellings.

Gas Explosion Kills Five.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 26.—A terrific explosion of gas occurred in the Buttonwood mine of the Parrish Coal company, situated one mile south of this city, late yesterday, which caused the death of five men and the injury of nine others. Directly after the explosion occurred a number of brave rescuers at the risk of their lives entered the mine, now filled with dangerous after damp, and brought out the bodies of the dead and injured.

The President's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Yesterday was the forty-third anniversary of the birth of President Roosevelt. Occurring on Sunday, there was no formal celebration, and the day was spent very quietly. Dr. Nichols, a friend from Baltimore, was at the White House a portion of the day, and at night Commander Cowles was a guest at dinner. The president attended religious services at Grace Reformed church, as usual.

Largest Plate Glass.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 30.—The largest piece of plate glass in the world has been successfully finished at the Kokomo plant of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company. It weighed in the rough 2,500 pounds. When ground and polished, the weight was 1,300 pounds. The plate is 18 feet 1 inch in length and 13 feet 1 inch in width.

Embassador White Says Farewell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Andrew White, embassador to Germany, called upon Secretary Hay yesterday to say farewell. He has been in the United States about two months on leave and is about to return to his post at Berlin.

Russian Town Burned.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—"The town of Bobruisk, in the government of Minsk, has been destroyed by fire," says a dispatch to The Daily Mail from St. Petersburg, "and several lives have been lost."

GLOOM

Women Find Happiness and Health in Dr. Greene's Nervura.

"Are these horrible aches and pains natural? Am I doomed to lose my health and good looks through suffering I can't prevent? Shall I be nervous and cross at twenty-five, thin and sickly at thirty, and full of wrinkles in my prime?"

Are you asking these questions of yourself, young woman? Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will preserve your beauty and keep back the marks of time. It will help you at once.

MRS. MAY CLARK, formerly of Buffalo, N.Y., who now lives at Crowland, Ont., says:

"For 2 years I was miserable, and no one can imagine what hours I put in. I felt so sad and down-hearted all the time, and sometimes felt as if I would be glad if I could die, for it was misery to live and feel as I did. I thought sometimes I should lose my mind. I had the headache and could not sleep at times. I tried many medicines but they did me no good. At last I decided to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after taking two bottles I could sleep well, and my mind did not trouble me any more. I am now able to do all my own housework, which I have not done for two years before. I am very thankful for what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me, and I gladly recommend it to all who suffer as I have suffered."

The pity of beauty sacrificed to pain and nervousness! Realize it now and prevent the inroads upon your happiness and health. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy always helps women. You will understand this if you try it. Dr. Greene, 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City, will advise you free of charge, if you call or write.

HE IS NOT WANTED.

John Dongan, or perhaps better known by the sobriquet of "Kit Kaine" is not wanted for the murder of Alexander Rae, notwithstanding the fact that he is said to have made a confession incriminating himself. His name is not among those who murdered paymaster Rae. Investigation into the trial, and conviction of the Mollie Mcguires, which occurred in Bloomsburg way back in 1877, shows that the evidence of Dan Kelly, a witness, implicated ten men, Ned Skivington, Bolan Campbell, James Baldy, William Muldowney, Roger Lafferty and a man by the name of Dalton, and Hester, Tulley and McHugh, who were hanged.

When shown a dispatch a few days ago, saying that "Kit Kaine" was being held in Alabama, for complicity in the crime, Captain Linden, the head of Philadelphia's secret service said, "the man is not wanted. Hester, Tulley and McHugh were hung for the murder. The others escaped and I believe subsequently died. No man bearing this name figured in the conspiracy."

This fellow is no doubt seeking notoriety, or else is weak mentally.

The Council in Special Session.

The Town Council assembled in special session Tuesday evening for the purpose of considering the matter of paving the alley on the East side of the Court House. The condition of the alley has long been a subject for complaint, especiallly by those who have been compelled to use it. Mr. Louis Cohen, was present and expressed his views on the matter, and asked that the alley be repaired, so as to avoid the possibility of accidents.

The matter was then taken up by the Council, but owing to a division of opinion among the members present it was thought best to hold it over for the present. A committee was appointed however to confer with the County Commissioners and Messrs Wirt and Krickbaum, and to report at the next meeting of council.

The services of the special policemen were ordered to be dispensed with, after which the meeting adjourned.

Bi-County C. E. Convention.

The fourteenth Convention of Christian Endeavorers of Montour and Columbia counties, will be held in Bloomsburg Monday evening and Tuesday, November 4 and 5. On Tuesday the sunrise service will be held in the Evangelical Church, the morning and afternoon sessions in the Reformed Church, the Junior Rally, at 4 o'clock, in the Presbyterian Church, and the closing session, Tuesday evening, in the Lutheran Church.

Addresses and discussions on important topics, by capable speakers, including Rev. Wayland Hoyt, D. D., of Philadelphia, and Rev. J. H. Weber, D. D., of Sunbury, and a number of choice selections by talented musicians, and the Normal School Orchestra, combine to make a most helpful, interesting and altogether attractive program. CORAY'S ACCEPTANCE

Reform Candidate for State Treasurer on Campaign Issues.

THE UNION OF HONEST VOTERS

Redemption of Pennsylvania From Misrule is the Supreme Duty of the Hour.

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—The following correspondence was made public today:

Philadelphia, October 24, 1901.

To Hon. Elisha A. Coray, Jr.:

Having been appointed a committee to notify you formally of your nomination as a candidate for the office of state treasurer by the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, we take the opportunity of performing the pleasant duty.

You have not been chosen for this important position because of any political opinion to which you subscribe, nor of any political party to which you belong; but for the higher reason that you are regarded as an upright, courageous and competent man, who will carefully guard the public interests, should you be elected to the office for which you have been named.

We believe the great majority of the honest, intelligent citizens of the state want a man at the head of the state treasury who is honest, fearless and capable, no matter what opinion he may hold as to purely political topics. The questions that test a man's fitness for the important office for which you have been named are: Is he honest? Is he courageous? Is he capable? Believing that you fully represent all that good citizens demand, you have been selected as our candidate and we feel that you will receive the cordial support of every Democrat who has the welfare of his state at heart.

In selecting you as its candidate the party is but following the advice of that great Democrat, Samuel J. Tilden, whose memory is revered by our party as one well worthy the honor which it had universally received. On November 2, 1871, he delivered an address which found a responsive echo in every intelligent man's mind. In that address occurred the following extract:

"If we find our dwellings wrapped in flames we should not inquire whether it was an Irishman or a German; whether it was a Republican or Democrat who lent us a hand to put out the fire. And on this occasion, in this great city, knowing nothing about the action of your committee of seventy except what I have heard, caring nothing who unites with us or with whom we unite for this grand object. I come before you to advocate a union of all honest men against a combination of plunderers."

The necessity that existed for a union of honest men in New York when Samuel J. Tilden uttered these words, exists in a still stronger sense today, in Pennsylvania; and it is believed that your selection as a candidate will aid materially in bringing this union about, and we sincerely hope that you will accept the nomination in the same spirit in which it is tendered and that you may be triumphantly elected and the cause of good citizenship vindicated.

ANDREW J. PALM,
C. E. INGERSOLL,
F. J. FITZSIMMONS,
GEO. R. DIXON,
JOHN T. FISHER.

MR. CORAY'S REPLY.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee:

Replying to your letter advising me of my selection as the candidate of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania for the office of state treasurer, I desire in accepting the nomination to say, I appreciate the trust you have reposed in me. To justify that confidence and to carry into effect the principles enunciated in your platform, so far as they relate to the office of state treasurer, will be my single purpose if elected. I also wish to express the honor which I feel in being associated on the ticket with so pure and able a jurist as Judge Yerkes, whose election at this time, for obvious reasons, is a matter of great importance.

In this connection it may not be inappropriate to make some allusion to the issues of the campaign. During the first five months of the present year, the people of Pennsylvania were permitted to witness the unfolding of the most ingeniously devised and gigantic scheme of public plunder ever attempted in any single session of the state legislature. The scheme involved the purchase of the organization of that body. It involved the purchase of a seat in the United States senate. It involved the changing of the libel laws for the purpose of muzzling the public press. It involved the destruction of popular government in cities of the first class. It involved laying all the real estate of the great City of Philadelphia under tribute to the machine. Finally, it involved reimbursement to the machine and its henchmen for all the time and trouble incurred by themselves, out of the assets of the commonwealth—that is to say the taxpayers of the state were to be made to pay the expenses of their own humiliation and robbery. It was in the spirit of resistence to this conspiracy that fusion had its birth; the decent Democrats and decent Republicans in the legislature laying aside all questions of party policy upon which honest men may honestly differ, fought shoulder to shoulder for the honor of the commonwealth and the protection of its taxpayers. In that battle your state chairman, Mr. Creasy, and Representative Palm, were among the foremost champions of the rights of the people.

The results of the struggle there waged are now matters of history. The public press is still free to expose the schemes of the corruptionists, and is improving the opportunity. The state's subfluvial deposits of coal have not changed ownership. The supreme court has removed the tax ripping club the machine held over the City of Philadelphia. Popular government, however, is suspended in our cities of the second class. Trolley franchises worth millions of dollars recently owned by the state now repose in the pockets of the machine leaders—sufficient in value to pay all the expenses of all the larceny committed; and together with the many smaller grabs, variously disguised, leave a handsome margin of profit to the machine for its session's work.

The harmonious action of the Union and Democratic parties concentrates the heretofore divided opposition which has hindered effective protest being made against the machine at the polls. The spirit and purpose expressed in the platforms of the Democratic and Union parties are identical. They speak for honest government. The machine platform endorses all the plundering acts committed by the legislature. The issue is thus squarely drawn. The struggle is transferred from the halls of the legislature to the people. This is the court of last resort. Victory for the machine would inevitably be construed as an endorsement of all the iniquities of which it has been guilty.

This election will have an important bearing upon the contest for governor and the legislature next year. If the machine is entrenched when the legislature of 1903 convenes, the largest army of spoilsmen that ever assembled at Harrisburg will be on hand clamoring for the flesh pots. Another United States senator is to be elected at that time, and the machine has no other assets with which to pay for services rendered its candidates, than those they get out of the commonwealth.

The kind of government we have in Pennsylvania comes high, but the people can have it indefinitely if they are willing to vote for it, and pay for it. It is inconceivable, however, that they will do this any longer, and I am confident the day of deliverance is at hand.

Recognizing that the Democratic party of Pennsylvania by their platform adopted August 15, 1901, have made these questions the issue of the present campaign for the purpose of overthrowing the corrupt ring which now manages public affairs, I have no hesitation in accepting the nomination of your party upon that platform.

Very truly yours,
E. A. CORAY, JR.
